

In The Maze

In the maze you get amazed
Nights turn to days and reverse
Black and white grays like a curse

In the maze you pretend well
For heaven and hell you extend all
Beyond the periphery of the sacred

In the maze you are naked
Like a bribe you just take it
When opportunity knocks chins

In the maze you have sins
And you wear them like teeth
As your breath puffs out the gaps

In the maze and its walls
Where the lizards eat balls
Yours become small as defense

In the maze of engagement
In utter estrangement you cry
And your favorite word why asks

In the maze you only react
And each cause bullies the others
Like too many cocktails on coke

In the maze it's a joke
When the hunter sees you crouch
But wants a good ouch from you

In the maze you may die
It's no way out when you try
You can hear the word "I" echo "i"
